AUTUMN-FLOWERING BULBS TO BRIGHTEN YOUR FALL GARDEN

One of the most entrancing and inspiring sights that one can see traveling through the Engadine and the Bernese Alps in Switzerland in late August and September is the landscape on the mountain sides, dotted with picturesque farmhouses, covered in many places with thousands upon thousands of the Autumn-Flowering Crocuses bravely unfolding their softly colored petals, showing their lovely, often gaily colored hearts, fearless of the oncoming winter.

The great pleasure of having quantities of these lovely flowers in our gardens, in the lawn, along the bank or driveway or in forgotten corners, in great variety, flowering there through September into October and some varieties even flowering until severe frost puts an end to all this gayety, is easily within our grasp.

Order at Once

Please send order today; shipments will go forward in August and early September; the bulbs should be planted immediately upon arrival; these gems will flower within two or three weeks after planting, blossoming luxuriantly from year to year in increasing quantity. They require practically no care whatsoever but are thankful for a little mulching.

Planted in August and September they will flower in three weeks and into October. Permanent—they naturalize themselves and you can look forward to many years of enjoyment. Our Superior Quality Stock will produce from three to six flowers from each bulb.

Autumn Flowering Crocuses

Plant in August-September—Bloom within a few weeks

The great pleasure of having quantities of these lovely flowers in our gardens, in the lawn, along the bank or driveway or in forgotten corners in great variety, flowering through September into October, and some varieties even flowering until severe frost puts an end to all this gayety, is easily within our grasp. They are also very attractive grown in pots indoors. These Crocuses grow very successfully in ordinary soils; surround the bulbs with a little sharp sand. Plant during late August or early September; these gems will flower within two or three weeks after planting, blossoming luxuriantly from year to year.

Colchicums

(Meadow Saffron)

Plant in August-September—Bloom within a few weeks

These Autumn-Flowering Bulbs are among the most beautiful of woodland flowers and are at home in the lawn, border or rock garden. The large Crocus like blossoms (4 to 6 times the size of the regular Crocus) appear in a succession of flowers from September till November. We recommend them strongly for planting in grass, in which their delightful flowers may be seen at their best. You will consider them particularly valuable for their permanency. They are also interesting as a house plant as they will flower in a dry state. They are useful placed in bowls with pebbles where they will come into flower within two weeks. Make delightful cut flowers as well. Our Superior Quality Stock will produce from four to eight flowers from each bulb.

AUTUMNALE ALBUM. Beautiful pure white; this variety increases very rapidly and forms good strong clumps. $3.25 for 10; $7.75 for 25; $15.00 for 50.

AUTUMNALE MAJOR. This is one of the largest varieties in cultivation and has massive flowers of rosy purple. Very delightful. $4.00 for 10; $9.50 for 25; $18.75 for 50.

AUTUMNALE ROSEUM FLORE PLENO. Double flower of exceptional beauty. The large flowers are rosy purple and very beautiful. Beautiful in the garden and for cutting. $4.00 for 10; $9.50 for 25; $18.75 for 50.

THE GIANT. As the name implies, it is truly a giant flower of purest lilac. $4.75 for 10; $11.50 for 25; $22.50 for 50.

VIOLET QUEEN. The large flowers have a ground color of Lilac with violet tints for an exquisite effect. $4.75 for 10; $11.50 for 25; $22.50 for 50.

Iris—Goddess of the Rainbow.

TALL BEARDED IRIS

(June Flowering)

Increase Garden Beauty—
Reduce labor costs

The culture of the Bearded Irises offers no difficulties. But because they will grow under arid conditions, will survive in shade, and bravely assume the part, too often thrust upon them, of rescuing from desolation some garden region where little else will consent to grow, these willing plants are, more often than not, treated with scant consideration and denied the opportunity to develop the full measure of their beauty and nobility. Even so they pluckily grow and blossom; but give them their desire—abundant sunshine, good soil rich in lime and devoid of fresh manure, intelligent watering during dry seasons, particularly when the buds are forming—and the reward in multiplicity of flowers, in their improved color and size and texture, in the sturdy increase of the clumps, will astonish many a one who is under the impression that he is familiar with the manifold charms of color, the perfection of form of these most enchanting flowers.

We have given much careful study to the great number of varieties usually listed. We have noted the many similarities existing, and have finally selected what we would consider a Master List, consisting of the most desirable varieties, so that you may plant all of the following in your garden without danger of regret.

All appear on the list of 100 best, published by the American Iris Society. Dykes Medal Winners received the Highest Award of the Society which is made each year.
